

Last Drop Village Hotel & Spa

as it is seen today was originally converted from a group of derelict 17th century farm buildings known as "Orrell Fold". The name of "Orrell" dates back far beyond modern records, but it is generally believed that the Orrell family held the Manor of Turton from circa 1420, when the Lord of the Manor, John de Torbock, died and was succeeded by William Orrell. The title was then passed down through successive generations of the Orrell family, all of whom resided at Turton Tower.

Turton Tower

is a distinctive Grade 1 listed English country house. Originally built by the Tudor Orrell family to defend their land, it later became a grand home and was extended in both the Tudor and early Stuart periods.

Jumbles Country Park

was opened in the Bradshaw Valley following the construction of Jumbles Reservoir and is owned and managed by United Utilities, with woodland that is home to a variety of wildlife including sparrow hawk, kestrel, foxes and roe deer.

COUNTRYSIDE WALKS

on public footpaths

THE YELLOW ROUTE

Approx. 1.65 miles / 45 minutes

A gentle walk alongside Turton Golf Club and the disused Egerton Quarry. This route is popular with dog walkers and joggers. There are lovely views over the quarry, where you may even see a deer or two!

THE BLUE ROUTE

Approx. 2.35 miles / 2 hours

This route to Egerton / Dimple winds through the scenic Turton Golf Course (watch out for the golfers!) with stunning long-range views over The West Pennine Moors. The route takes you to the entrance of Turton Tower, a Grade I Medieval Manor House and then along the Hazelhurst Brook and through the woods. Please note that there are wet areas in the woods so if you would prefer a drier route, follow the pavements back on Chapeltown Road and Haydock Lane.

THE RED ROUTE

Approx. 3.25 miles / 2 hours 30 minutes

This route takes you through The Jumbles Country Park, which includes the beautiful Jumbles Reservoir. This route is relatively flat but includes a couple of steep inclines in the Country Park and along Chapeltown Road. Make sure you wear your wellies when crossing the fields back to Turton Golf Club! You may also wish to break up the route and stop for a refreshment at either the Jumbles Country Park Café or the King William Public House.
